

Earn money while helping secure a Labour victory at the General Election!

We are seeking personable and passionate individuals to make calls on behalf of our client, the Labour Party.

If you are passionate about Labour returning to power through engaging conversations this could be the perfect role for you. As well as calling on behalf of Labour Party, there will be opportunities to call on behalf of a range of other exciting charity causes.

About the role

No 'cold calling'. No monotone calling scripts, and a supportive and friendly work environment. You will be mainly speaking with existing members and supporters. Benefits of the role include:

- Fully remote home working
- Full paid training
- Flexible hours that suit you (minimum of 10.5 required)
- No zero hours contract
- A generous base rate of pay at £12 per hour (£12.64 London weighting) base rate plus holiday and sick pay
- Opportunity to move up through pay tiers (top tier at £14 per hour/£14.64 London weighting)
- Uncapped weekly bonus scheme
- Immediate start
- Weekly pay

Shifts:

Choose from the following shifts, Monday-Friday;

12:30-16:00

16:30-20:00

17.30-21:00

You can work one or two shifts per day, as long as shift pattern, across the week, favours equal or greater towards evening shifts.

Key attributes:

- As a home worker you must be productive, self-motivated, and self-managing.
- Outstanding interpersonal skills transferable to telephone conversations
- Confident and clear speaking voice
- Adequate IT skills geared toward using a dialling out calling platform
- Confidence in making financial ask, where appropriate more than once within the call
- Ability to both follow a structure (call guide) and use initiative to personalise calls and respond sensitively to supporters.
- Ability to perform to target based working environment

Practical needs:

- Private work space with no noise pollution or household foot traffic
- Laptop or PC running on with MAC or Windows 10 or above
- Ability to run an Ethernet cable (provided) from workstation to internet router as home

Please apply in writing, to liz.morrison@stratcomuk.com